Dear Dr. Zhang,

I forgot to add a note to the decline as you suggested. I think the original review is already in a very good shape and I trust that the authors revised very nicely with the reviewer suggestions.

Best,
Zhong

Dear Dr. Wang,

As you will recall, you previously reviewed the manuscript noted below for PeerJ Life & Environment. The authors have now revised the manuscript and I would be obliged if you could comment on the revision.

If you do not feel the need to re-review then please proactively decline this invitation using the link below, with a note to that effect, so that I can expedite the decision to the authors.

- Title: "Trends and challenges in organoid modeling and expansion with pluripotent stem cells and somatic tissue"

- Journal: PeerJ (<https://peerj.com/>)
