

Response to the Authors

Subject: Appreciation for Addressing Reviewer Comments

Dear Authors,

Thank you for your diligent efforts in revising your manuscript, "Research progress and strategies for the biosynthesis of KGF-2 in plant systems," in response to the reviewers' comments. I particularly appreciate the thoroughness with which you addressed the points raised in my initial review. Your revisions have significantly strengthened the manuscript and enhanced its clarity, scientific rigor, and relevance to the field.

The additions you made have all contributed to a more comprehensive and balanced manuscript, and the corrections ensured a polished result. Your responsiveness to feedback and commitment to improving the work are commendable. I am satisfied with the revisions and fully support the manuscript's acceptance in its current form. I look forward to seeing this work published and hope it will inspire further research in this important area.

Congratulations on your excellent work, and thank you again for your cooperation throughout the review process.

Best regards.